uCosmo™ Technology

uCosmo™ Technology

uCosmo handle outputs 1MHz high-frequency ultrasound and skin products simultaneously, which effectively breaks down the molecular structure of active ingredients into more minute molecules. They can easily penetrate cuticle barrier into base layer for smoothing and moisturizing skin.

QuaPollar™
Technology

QuaPollar™ Technology

Collagen in the dermis likes a dense net structure, which is the key of keeping skin young and tightening. According to collagen net structure, the radio frequency evenly heats the collagen up to 37–41°C. Later more and more collagen generates restoring the wrinkles and improving skin sagging. It is more effective for lifting skin tissue and achieving a better result of reversing skin age.

synergy+ — Skin Management Platform

Skin Management — Traditional skin beauty mainly depends on skin care products. Those active ingredients of products penetrate into skin epidermis by the manual or some old infusion technology. It's difficult to achieve an expected result from epidermis to the deep skin layer; In 2017 and the following few years, the innovative technology from Europe and the United States will upgrade skin management to Version 4.0, from the deep skin layer to the epidermis. That will be a new trend for beauty industry following the micro-plastic surgery and semi permanent make-up.

Aqua
Technology

Aqua Technology

The spiral eddy movement combines with vacuum technology. The water molecules directly penetrate to pores and continually make Brownian movement. After settlement and rupture, it can achieve such results: high degree of permeability, deep cleaning, horny removing, water and oil secretion balancing, skin texture improving and natural skin color restoring.

OxyGemeo™
Technology

OxyGemeo™ Technology

OxyGemeo™ Technology — The particular Capsugem™ tip with specific vibration frequency of handle produces countless CO₂ bubbles. The minute CO₂ bubbles penetrate and burst in deep skin, that triggers Bohr Effect to enrich oxygen content in blood, revive skin cells and make skin rejuvenated.
